FIGHT IN A CHUR H. [Correspondence Alexandria Gazette ] Be hel Academy, July 10 -Located in the footbills of the thue Ridge meeting house known as the South Run Church, which was built prior to the civil war by the liberality of the communicants of the Lerds parish. Twice a month preaching was done by the preacher in charge of aid parish in the alternoons of the days when preaching was had at Leeds Church. However, the Episcopshane allowed the Baptists and Methodists to have an appointment when it did not conflict with theirs, and frequently both denominations took advantage of the generosity of the Episcopal brethren and preached to large congregations. which was more to their liking than the "service," prayer book and written sermons. In fact these free staters had serious doubts about a man having been called to preach if he read his ser mons, as was frequently the case with the Episcopal clergy. The Episcopa lians bave abandoned sa d house of wor ship, so the Baptists and Methodists now have full control, and each in their turn hold what is known up there as 'big meetins' and among the elite as protracted meetings. A meeting of this character bas been in progress since Monday last when all of the preaching was done by Rev. Mr. Jackson, of Staf-ford county, every night during the week and an all day service was had on yesterday with dinner on the ground. The house was crowded to suffocation at both morning and evening services Just after the preacher had pronounced the benediction and the crowd began to eave the house some loud talking was noticed near the door. The attention of all near the door was drawn in that direction when a married woman was Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs, seen giving some severe kicks in the rear of a single woman's dress. But for the presence of mind of the lady in Corner Prince and Commerce Streets have gone heels over head out of the door. After three severe kicks the young woman landed on the platform Liberal Management. Sesson June 15th to and there invited the married woman to go to the road and she would give her a thrashing. But instead of acceping the invitation the married woman followed up the kicks with a blow in the mouth with her flst, which knock ed out a tooth, and then it was that the single woman with the fierceness of tiger grabbed the other woman by her hair and the fun began in earnest Which would have gotten the best of i is hard to conjecture, for just at this juncture of the fight the husband of the

AUNT JANE'S FIRST VISIT .- Aunt Jane is the cook at the Governor's mansion, in Richmond, a position she has filled for three Governors in succession. Yet never until yesterday has Aunt Jane been inside the Capitol, not That it should be treated only by the skillful forty yards from the door of the mansion. Aunt Jane was on the point of making her annual pilgrimage to her old home in Buckingham county, but before starting was induced by old Walker Howard, the colored janitor at the capitol, to allow him to show her through the building. Walker took her to the top of the building and point-ed out places of interest "Aunt Jane" had never before heard of. She freel; confessed that the janitor of "Revolu tionary fame" was the smartest man she ever met. This old cook has served under the administrations of Governors McKinney, O'Ferrall and Tyler.
